R55THEGUY

// FRESHER - PROGRAMMER

BACKGROUND

I'm a flexible developer who uses AI tools to speed up the development process, work more efficiently, and deliver high-quality results. Whether it's building something from scratch or improving existing projects, I use AI to stay fast, creative, and focused on what matters most – getting things done right.

EDUCATION

I am a self-taught developer and designer who learned through online tutorials, documentation, and hands-on projects. I use AI tools like ChatGPT to speed up learning and problem-solving. Building games, web apps, and design assets has given me practical experience. I stay committed to learning new technologies and keeping up with industry trends.
